Foundation for Fresno Unified Students Announces FFB Bank Scholarship to Hoover High Student

The Foundation for Fresno Unified Students is proud to announce the return of the FFB Bank Scholarship, a valued opportunity for Hoover High School students pursuing careers in business finance. This $5,000 scholarship returns for a second year through the generous support of FFB Bank, reaffirming the bank's commitment to education and community development.

This year's recipient is Noah Hinojosa, a standout Hoover High senior whose academic excellence, leadership and deep passion for business finance exemplify the spirit of the scholarship. Noah's dedication and vision for a future in finance made him the clear choice for this year's award.

"Noah represents the talent and drive we aim to uplift through this partnership," said Wendy McCulley, CEO of The Foundation for Fresno Unified Students. "We are incredibly grateful to FFB Bank for renewing their investment in Hoover students and for helping us support the next generation of Fresno's business leaders."

Established in partnership with The Foundation for Fresno Unified Students, the FFB Bank Scholarship reflects a shared mission to open doors for young leaders and to encourage academic and career success. Hoover High students who applied for the Fresno Unified Scholarship were automatically considered for the award.

The Foundation and FFB Bank look forward to continuing their collaboration and expanding opportunities for students like Noah in the years to come.

"We appreciate FFB Bank's commitment to our students and our community through this scholarship. "By helping eliminate financial obstacles to college, they are paving the way for our students to achieve lifelong success," said Superintendent Misty Her.
